Indianapolis to host UPCI General Conference

INDIANAPOLIS – Pentecostals from across North America and around the globe will gather to pray, worship, and conduct business when the United Pentecostal Church International hosts its General Conference on September 24–27 at the Indiana Convention Center.

The UPCI is a Oneness Pentecostal organization with approximately 5.1 million constituents worshipping in more than 42,000 churches across 230 nations and territories. The annual General Conference is expected to draw more than 8,000 attendees.

The four-day event will feature worship services, training seminars, and ministry exhibits, and will provide church members and leaders the opportunity to network with colleagues.

Attendees also will have an opportunity to meet representatives of the many service and outreach ministries affiliated with the UPCI. These include disaster relief agencies such as Reach Out America and Compassion Services International. Other ministry affiliates that will be present include Tupelo Children's Mansion and New Beginnings International Children's & Family Services, both of which serve at-risk children and families in North America. The UPCI also operates homes for orphans in Haiti, Guatemala, and Nepal, as well as short-term medical clinics in various other nations.

With roots anchored firmly in the Bible and a vision for ministering to people around the globe, the UPCI embraces its mission to carry the whole gospel to the whole world by the whole church. In the process, it has been recognized as one of the fastest growing faith communities in the world. To learn more about the UPCI, visit UPCI.org.

The UPCI has held their General Conference in Indianapolis four times previously, most recently in 2016. The event is scheduled to return to the city again in October 2021. North American Youth Congress, a biennial conference hosted by the UPCI's youth outreach division, was held at the Indiana Convention Center and Lucas Oil Stadium in July 2017 and drew approximately 35,000 students from all 50 states and Canada.
